Dr. Mathews Urges Permanent Unified Program Of Evangelism

By DR. C. E. MATHEWS
Superintendent of Evangelism

The hope for evangelism in 1952 and beyond among Baptists is a unified program. This is just as essential for evangelism as a unified program is for the Sunday school, Training Union, W.M.U., or Cooperative Program. Without unification, it is impossible to mobilize people into concerted effort. Without unification, haphazardness takes over and disintegration is the results. Without unification, teamwork is impossible. Surely the Southern Baptist program of evangelism has proven its merit in visible results of baptisms and additions to the churches.

A unified program, such as Southern Baptists now have, has brought together all agencies of our denomination and of our churches. It has molded our strength into one great body or unit with one accord and one objective, the evangelization of a lost world.

A resume of the Southern Baptist program of evangelism is as follows:

A state Secretary of Evangelism to supervise the work; two associational officers in each association, elected annually; an evangelism church council in each church, composed of pastor and heads of each church agency, to plan

two revivals a year and a perennial program of visitation evangelism; and an

SUGGESTS 1952 DRIVE TO READ BIBLE THROUGH

NASHVILLE, Tenn. —(BP)— Dr. G. Kearnie Keegan, secretary of the Baptist Student Union, has suggested a campaign to get all Southern Baptists to read the Bible through in 1952. He believes it to be a good way to help secure all we have gained in the two simultaneous revival crusades. He says, "If only one million of the seven million Southern Baptists should participate, a spiritual impact undoubtedly would result which would defy our wildest expectations. How splendid it would be for the world to know that Southern Baptists, who believe the Book implicitly, had set themselves to this unprecedented venture."

He even suggests today the words "READ THE BIBLE THROUGH IN 1952." The campaign will not take the place of any Bible reading done in Sunday School, Training Union or by other groups.

STATE MISSIONS DEMANDS ATTENTION

By CHESTER L. QUARLES
Executive Secretary

State Missions demands attention because of its fundamental value to world missions. While one recognizes that the Lord never divided missions into segments—associational, state, southwide and worldwide—we have come to think of missions as partitioned. In such thinking we realize that "associational" and "state" missions is the foundation for all missions. This is true because of their "heart-grip" on our people.

Yet many times pastors and others find it very difficult to secure much interest in state missions. This is lamentable because if we fail here we fail everywhere. If we fail in missions we say "no" to Christ in disobeying this command.

State Missions demands attention because of what it is doing in Kingdom's work. After universally-accepted deductions are made our Mississippi mission money is divided 50-50 with worldwide causes. The Mississippi 50-percent is divided as follows:

State Missions .....	22%
Christian Education .....	20%
Orphanage .....	4%
Ministerial Education .....	2%
Baptist Foundation .....	1%
Baptist Hospital .....	1%

The division of funds is determined by the Mississippi Baptist Convention Board annually in the December meeting. The members of the Convention Board are nominated by the associations and are elected by the State Convention.

STATE MISSIONS

Just exactly what is being done with the portion that is designated as State Missions (in one sense at least this is a mission because all Mississippi Baptist work is State Missions—orphanage, hospital, colleges, et cetera)? Here are the 34 items of the budget:

1. Church Building Evangelism .....	$ 10,000.00
2. Negro Work .....	13,500.00

Heads Seminaries Extension Dept.

REV. LEE GALLMAN

JACKSON, Miss., July 4—The Extension Department of Southern Baptist Seminaries, an agency of state and southwide importance, has been established in Mississippi, with Rev. Lee Gallman as director.

The new agency has headquarters in the Baptist Building in Jackson and will serve the entire area of the Southern Baptist Convention.

The purpose of the department is to provide correspondence work for religious workers over the South from each of the cooperating seminaries, Southern Seminary, Louisville, Ky.; New Orleans Seminary, New Orleans, La.; and Southwestern Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas.

Mr. Gallman, the director, was formerly pastor of Second Church, Montgomery, Ala. He is a graduate of Howard College and Southwestern Seminary. Previously he was Promotional Secretary of the Mobile Baptist Association, Mobile, Alabama.

"A" BOMB DESTROYS MILLIONS OF PEOPLE

CHICAGO, Ill.—Apropos of fears of a new World War, current facts assembled from authentic medical sources, indicate that America is already under lethal siege from menacing forces within her borders, asserts a statement released for publication by the American Business Men's Research Foundation of this city.

Dr. Gill, who has just returned to Richmond, Va., from a six weeks tour of mission fields in Mexico, Guatemala, Costa Rica, Colombia, and Ecuador, exchanged air travel for a mule and saddle in order to visit our school in the state of Guerrero, Mexico. This school ministers to 140 children and is the only school in the Guayameo community and a far-reaching mountain area. "After 400 years, neither the dominate church nor the state has done anything for these people," Dr. Gill said.

Dr. Everett Gill, Jr., secretary for Latin America for the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, says that in this postwar period Latin America is strategically important because it is open to the gospel and is immediately responsive to our message.

"For the first time in human history we are realizing that if communism should sweep over all of Asia and Europe, the Western Hemisphere would remain the last bastion of human freedom," Dr. Gill told the headquarters staff. "As never before we will need the friendliness of our Latin American neighbors.

"We now realize how vital was the contribution of Latin America during the second world war, providing strategic military and naval bases, air fields, and vital raw materials.

"Our destiny is inseparably united with Latin America. As part of the Western Hemisphere, we must stand together. We must unite with these neighbors in a stand against communism, but we must likewise be very careful

African Pays The Lord In Advance

Tithing is fast becoming the popular method of giving in the Baptist churches of the Gold Coast, Africa. Southern Baptist Missionary C. F. Eaglesfield sends this story:

An old man past 80 came into the little church assisted by his daughter. He hobbled up the aisle, put a six pence piece on the offering table, and said, "This is my tithe."

"Ah, ah," said the leader. "Uncle John, you have been sick for three weeks and you have made no money. How can you tithe when you haven't worked and earned any money?"

"Oh," said Uncle John, "the Lord has been good to me and I am getting well; so I thought I would come and pay him some in advance."

against encouraging fascism and other anti-democratic dictatorships," he continued.

"Although persecutions break out periodically, our missionaries in 13 of these republics are enjoying an amazing amount of freedom for the preaching of the gospel," he added.

He found the people of all the countries following the MacArthur question with interest and shocked by the Kefauver revelations probably because they have generally looked up to the United States as an ideal.

He reported economic and social progress in the last few years. However, he said, while there has been much progress in the large centers, poverty, illiteracy, and disease still remain unconquered in the hinterlands.

Dr. Gill is responsible for general supervision of our mission work in Mexico, Central, and South America, where we have 338 missionaries in 62 cities and communities. He has lived and traveled extensively in Europe and Latin America.

can cities, with a population exceeding 16 million Americans, has been hit by "A" bombs during recent months. Every citizen of every city has been injured. Many thousands are dead or dying, many incapacitated for life, while agony of soul and body shrouds the victims like a "pall."

The Foundation explains that it is referring not to the militarily detonating "A" bomb, but rather to "the Alcoholic bomb or Alcoholism," and it continues: "The widely accepted estimate of the number of alcoholics in the United States is 4,000,000.

"If the alcoholic is the 'statistical average,' he has about three close family members whose lives are blighted by his alcoholism.

"This means the 'A bomb' of alcoholism is affecting and injuring 16,000,000 Americans.

"The ravage of alcoholism is injuring one out of every nine Americans directly and indirectly. It is financially hurting every American."

Changing the illustration, the Foundation suggests that more persons are being killed and injured by the Alcoholic "A" bomb today than are actually living in 15 states west of the Missouri River except the State of California.

Churches To Receive Recognition

Mississippi State College, in cooperation with the Mississippi Christian Community Fellowship, is making final plans for recognition of outstanding churches during Farm and Home Week, July 16-20.

Churches which have unusual records of community service, spiritual growth, physical improvement, and improved music and financial programs will be presented a citation of merit on Church and Community Day, July 18. This is a program to magnify the importance of the church in the community. Shady Grove and Sharon Churches in Jones, Oak Hill and Bethel in Pearl River, were among the recipients of these awards in 1950.

Any interested person is eligible to nominate a church for this award. Blanks may be secured, before the deadline date of June 15, from: Division of Sociology and Rural Life, Box 866, State College, Mississippi.

Foundation Trustees Meet At Columbus

JACKSON—The Board of Trustees of the Mississippi Baptist Foundation, meeting in Columbus, Friday, discussed definite plans to be presented to the Mississippi Baptist Convention in November for endowing the denomination's colleges, according to Leland Speed of Jackson, president of the Board.

These plans called for enlisting the entire leadership of the denomination in a long range program to raise $3,500,000 of endowment funds. Dr. Harry L. Spencer is the Executive Secretary of the Foundation.

Appearing before the Board were Dr. Lawrence T. Lowery, president of Blue Mountain College and Chester L. Quarles, Executive Secretary of the Convention Board. Special recognition was accorded to W. N. Puckett of Columbus, one of the trustees who is the largest individual contributor to the Foundation's funds.

Reflections On The 1951 SB Convention

We went to the Southern Baptist Convention at San Francisco trembling. We came away rejoicing.

We went fearful of hot-headed radical action. Our fears were unfounded. It was one of the smoothest yet most constructive convention in years.

California Southern Baptists had done and continued to do everything to take care of the Convention in a great way. They did just that.

As we passed through town after town without a Baptist Church we realized that the West is a mission of tremendous opportunities.

In one town a young woman said she had never seen a person immersed but her mother remembered seeing one several years ago.

We found much for which we are thankful. Many were the problems to be solved. The brethren of the various committees and boards had tackled their tasks with serious purpose and brought constructive and helpful reports and recommendations.

It seemed to us that they met their problems with courage and in a spirit of prayer and Christian brotherhood.

Space is not available for a full discussion of all the high points of the Convention but we give below some impressions.

Accommodations for the press were the best ever. At the Tampa meeting of the Southern Baptist Press Association, Editor Floyd Looney of the California Southern Baptist was instructed to prepare tables for the editors and reporters and see that outsiders did not slip in. He did just that.

And Rev. Albert McClellan, publicity director of the Southern Baptist Convention even improved on his previous achievements. He seemed to have anticipated every need and provided for them. Any editor having a poor report has no one but himself to blame.

As usual, a lot of time was wasted with welcome addresses. We still do not understand what connection there was between the presentation of a box of citrus fruit and the response to an address of welcome. Had we not felt welcome, we would have declined California's invitation.

There were many high spots. We cannot mention all. Some of them were: President Lee's address (which is appearing serially as an editorial); Dr. T. C. Gardner's report on Relations with Other Religious Bodies; Dr. C. Roy Angel's Convention sermon; the report of the Executive Committee (colored cards and all).

The sermon by Dr. F. Townley Lord, president of the Baptist World Alliance; the Home Mission Board report; Dr. Louie D. Newton's commemorating the 60th Anniversary of the Sunday School Board; Dr. H. H. Hobbs' address on "The Bible, Our Message"; Billy Graham's sermon; the Foreign Mission Board report.

The Saturday night Youth Service including the testimony of Roy Rogers, his wife Dale Evans, the sermon by Howard Butts and several hundred conversions; the Sunday afternoon Christian Home service with the testimony of the Fortenberry family and a great sermon by Dr. R. G. Lee; and the Sunday night evangelistic service with a great sermon and appeal by Dr. W. A. Criswell and another two hundred or more conversions.

There was a noticeable enlarging emphasis upon the home. Dr. Joe W. Burton deserves our eternal thanks for his accomplishments and this emphasis is meeting with a cordial and earnest response on the part of Southern Baptists.

Although Mississippians on the program were few, Mississippians now residing in other states had important places. Among them were: Dr. S. G. Posey, Dr. Duke K. McCall, Dr. Merrill Moore, Dr. G. S. Dobbins, Dr. R. Q. Leavell, Dr. W. L. Howse, Dr. J. B. Lawrence, Dr. James W. Middleton and Dr. T. L. Holcomb.

Southern Baptists again demonstrated that Baptists can function as a great democratic body with individual freedom of expression and vote. Baptists tell their leaders what to do in contrast to some other religious bodies whose leaders or LEADER tells the members what they can and cannot do. The people were given a chance to speak out and to vote their convictions.

Southern Baptists are Bible Baptists. No word of modernism was heard. No speaker either in private or upon the platform spoke one word that did not ring true to the cherished principles for which Baptists have fought and died. They know what our Lord meant when he commanded, "Go ye into ALL the world."

—BR—
The Baptist Body

One of the several great addresses at the recent meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention in San Francisco was the address of President Robert G. Lee. Lack of space prevents printing the address in one issue. In order that our readers may read it word for word we plan to run portions of it on the editorial page each week until completed. Keep your copies and thus have the complete address.

Southern Baptists are a

II—BODY BLESSED

Blessed of God who, when he wanted to save the world, made known his desire by a baby's cradle and a criminal's cross. Our Boards meet for counsel with no black damp of suspicion over them—rejoicing that in all our work we have clothed ourselves in more vigorous realities, reached forth to larger ambitions, and show no careless indifference to great stretches of the unattained.

Evangelistic fires burn in all corners of our Convention territory—testifying to our wisdom in evangelistic effort and to our belief that if the secret connections of revivals with the destiny of our nation and world were disclosed, they would appear to be more critical events than Boston Tea Parties, Yorktown surrenders, or world wars. With hope to outrun all our past deeds, with desire to invade our day with the glory of heroic life, we assure no superiority, show no repulsive egotism, preen not ourselves before mirrors of self-adulation. But we do say we are blest of God. Mightily God uses Southern Baptists in behalf of the human race, while the needs of the world are clamant.

Taking quick looks at the increase God has given, knowing the roads we journey travel also into the centuries, thinking of hundreds of thousands converted and baptized, rejoicing in new churches organized, grateful for the money given and in the spirit of oneness shown, we say what David, praying for Solomon, said: "Blessed be the Lord God, who alone doeth wondrous things" (Psalm 72:18).

Israel of old God guided and protected with pillar of fire by night and pillar of cloud by day. For Israel, he smote Egypt, divided the Red Sea, remembered them in their low estate, redeemed them from their enemies (Psalm 136), clave rocks and gave water in the wilderness, gave corn out of heaven, sent for food, feathered fowls, guided them in the wilderness like a flock. So has God's hand been upon us. Just as mightily and mercifully has God shown favor unto us. So we say: "O magnify the Lord with me—and let us exalt his name together" (Psalm 34).

We are a

III—BAPTIST BODY BUSY
Busy about our Father's business. With all our faults, we are neither robots nor marionettes, but God-imagined human beings having breath-by-breath business with the heavens of truth and righteousness. We seek to be big people in a big mood for big matters.

They of the Crusades went forth to rescue from profane possession of the infidel, the tomb where the risen Lord had lain. But we, with shield of faith and Sword of Spirit, go forth to rescue men from the deep disgrace and death of sin-seeking, with evangelistic zeal, to avert perils from our own land and carry the saving gospel to other nations.

World evangelization is not a task beyond our resources, but the delay of it will be the reproach of our faith and the shame of our profession—as we, into the holy fellowship of patriarchs, prophets, apostles, martyrs are, for cause of Christ, introduced by the perils of today! We must continue with intensity of effort our revival work—undertake the greatest effort at evangelizing the world that any religious body has ever undertaken since Paul and Silas left Antioch for Europe. We are on the road for a world-wide revival. We must not turn back as did John Mark and Demas.

Our supreme task is the evangelization of the world. Christ did not command us to civilize the world or educate the world, share our culture and art with the world, or even Christianize the world, but to preach the Gospel to every creature. If we had done more of the latter and less of the former, we doubt if the world would now

Boy Liked Cigarettes

A cigarette company sent to each of a group of high school boys a package of cigarettes. With the pack was a note saying, "We hope that you will like these cigarettes and want more."

One boy wrote back, "I like the cigarettes and want more. I soaked them all in one quart of water, which I used to spray the bugs on our rose bushes. All the bugs died. I will want more cigarettes next spring if the bugs come back."

be in its present condition. Our missionaries must not be more teachers and technicians than preachers and evangelists.

The urgency of this critical day calls for concentration on evangelism. No time is this to play on the periphery of the Christian task. This is the time to husband our resources for the primary task, the preaching of the Word of God.

Let us not talk about the revival crusade being over, though the obligation to indoctrinate our people is ours. More easily we can indoctrinate and enlist, send missionaries and secure money for their support, get young people to respond to Christ's call for mission service while a revival is moving multitudes to God than at any other time. Nothing could please Satan more. Nothing could help Stalin more or give more delight to all enemies of Christ's cross than for us to let down on evangelism. Let us cut loose with all we have in personality and purse and preaching as if this were the last year humanity would exist on this earth—remembering that the heroic days of evangelism are not over.

For the Father's cause, Abel died—and for it his blood yet speaks. Walking with God, Enoch pursued this cause to heaven's gate. To set forth its worth Abraham sojourned in a strange country, Joseph wielded the scepter of the Pharaohs, Moses renounced honors and treasures of Egypt, David fought and sang, Isaiah's lips were touched with heavenly fire, John the Baptist preached until cities were emptied and Jordan's waters with baptism stirred. For the Father's business, Jesus lived, died, rose from the dead, took place at the Father's right hand—and now directs with his pierced hands, into which all power is given, the providence which helps us do well our part in the chaos, conflicts, confusions, and corruptions of today.

Eighteenth Annual Writers' Conference
Planned For Ridgecrest, August 3-8

By PORTER ROUTH

Plans for the eighteenth annual writers' conference sponsored by the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board at Ridgecrest, North Carolina, to be held August 3-8 have been announced by Dr. Clifton J. Allen, secretary of the Editorial Division of the Board.

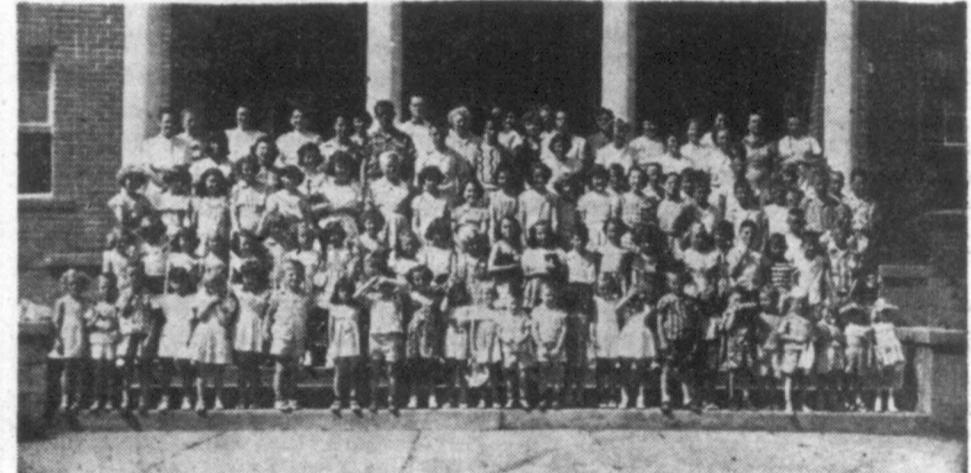

Four workshops for those interested in special types of writing will be featured during the conference. Dr. Walter S. Campbell, professor of English at the University of Oklahoma, will direct the workshop on non-fiction. J. Wesley Ingles, professor of English at the Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, will direct the workshop on fiction. Dr. G. S. Dobbins, acting president of the Southern Seminary, will direct the workshop on writing curriculum materials, and David A. Cheavens, director of the capital bureau of the Associated Press, Austin, Texas, will direct the workshop on reporting and publicity.

Featured speaker will include Dr. H.

C. Brearley, professor of sociology at George Peabody College who will discuss the reader and the region, and Dr. S. L. Stealey, newly elected president of the Southeastern Seminary who will discuss "The Christian Answer to the World's Questions."

To stimulate interest in the workshops, Dr. Allen announced that awards totaling more than $300 will be presented to those presenting the best manuscripts. Those interested in the awards in short juvenile short story, feature article, editorial, interpretative article, and inspirational article should submit manuscripts to Clifton J. Allen, 161 Eighth Avenue, North, Nashville, Tennessee, by July 1. Manuscripts should be in a sealed envelope with the classification and the name on the outside.

Reservations for space during the week should be sent to Willard K. Weeks, Ridgecrest, North Carolina. The Foreign Missions Conference will be held the same week.

There was an enrollment of 141 and an average attendance of 123 at the Vacation Bible School at First Church, Baldwyn. Serving with Pastor C. H. Skutt and Mrs. C. V. Grisham, principal, were the following department heads: Mrs. H. G. Bates, Intermediate; Mrs. C. W. McCarthy, Junior; Mrs. C. H. Skutt, Primary; and Mrs. J. H. McCarthy, Beginner.

THERE HAVE BEEN 450 ADDITIONS to the Highland Church in Memphis during the past year, of which 191 were for baptism. Dr. Slater A. Murphy is the pastor.

"THE STRATEGY FOR ADVANCE is simply doing a bigger and better job with what we now have. The church doing a better job of teaching the Bible in its Sunday school, doing a better job of training for church membership in its Training Union, doing a better job of enlisting and training in its W. M. U. and Brotherhood—this is the strategy that will make the Advance Program a success."—Howard P. Colson, The Teacher.

SONS OF ADAM ($2.00) BY SAMUEL M. Swemer contains 12 chapters about some of the outstanding characters of the Old Testament. The author being very familiar with the Near East and the land of Canaan draws from his source of knowledge to make the book more readable. Order from the Baker Book House, Grand Rapids, Michigan or from the Baptist Book Store.

"EVERY BAPTIST CHURCH CAN BE A popular people's university in the field of Christian education. The courses of Bible study and Christian training that are offered are so simple that every member of a Baptist church may be a well-informed member. Rich rewards may come to those who avail themselves of the opportunities that are offered." —J. E. Lambdin, The Baptist Training Union Magazine.

Dr. Jones To Lead Briar Hill Revival

DR. RUSSELL B. JONES

Dr. Russell Bradley Jones will be the evangelist in the revival at Briar Hill Church in Rankin County July 8-13. Rev. Wayne Alliston is the pastor.

Dinner will be served on the grounds on July 8 and everyone is cordially invited.

Dr. Jones, who has preached throughout the south and at the Tabernacle in London, led in the revival at Briar Hill last year. Ministers in the area will be particularly interested in attending the Bible Study classes which he will lead at the church each morning during the meeting.

RICHARD SMITH

On January 19, 1951, the death angel called Richard Smith away after a long illness. He leaves a host of friends and loved ones to mourn his passing. He was married to Miss Lizzie Herrington on Sept. 1, 1912.

He joined the Greenland Church early in life and was a faithful member until his death.

Be it resolved that we are members of Greenland Church boweth in humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well.

It is impossible for us to sympathize completely, and really share the burdens of the hearts of these loved ones left behind. We, too, were made sad by his passing. We realize the Master has transferred to another field of service another worker.

We want to express to the family our sympathy and love in this hour of sadness.

MOORE ACCEPTS MERIDIAN FIRST

Dr. Walter L. Moore, Waycross, Georgia, has accepted the call of First Church, Meridian.

Dr. Moore was reared in Ruston, Louisiana, and is a graduate of Mercer College, Macon, Georgia, and Southwestern Seminary, Fort Worth. He served as a missionary in Cuba for 10 years. Prior to his Waycross pastorate he was pastor of First Church, Cedartown, Georgia. He is a member of the Board of Trustees of Mercer College and Southwestern Seminary.

Dr. Moore is a popular young peoples' speaker and was formerly a devotional writer for the Christian Herald. He is now a devotional writer for the Christian Index of Georgia.

A prominent George Baptist says he is a "wonderful preacher and a great pastor."

Dr. Moore succeeds Dr. Norman W. Cox who recently resigned the Meridian pastorate in order to become executive secretary of the Southern Baptist Historical Commission.

First Church, Meridian, is one of the leading churches of Mississippi and Dr. Moore will find it a challenging field. It has one of the most modern educational plants in the South and the new auditorium now under construction will make the church plant one of the very best.

-- Woman's Missionary Union --President—Miss Almarine Brown, Jackson; Exec. Sec'y—Miss Edwina Robinson
Young People's Sec'y—Miss Nell TaylorGLIMPSES OF W. M. U. CONVENTION

The 1951 W. M. U. Convention, meeting in San Francisco, June 18-19, may not be news at this time; but it will long be of interest and importance to every member of W. M. U. To me it will also be a cherished memory, for it was my first Convention to attend as your President and, therefore, as a vice-president of the Southern W. M. U. And because I enjoyed every moment of my trip and was impressed more deeply than ever with the challenge of missions, I want to share some of the highlights of the Convention with you. Perhaps I shall be able to show you how deeply grateful I am for the privilege that was mine; at any rate I shall strive to do so as I serve Mississippi W. M. U.

Miss Robinson and I were accompanied by Miss Ruth Provence and Mrs. Gordon Maddry, Executive Secretary and President respectively of North Carolina W. M. U. On our way to and from San Francisco we visited our missionaries and mission stations, using as our guide the map published in the Home Mission Magazine. A report on that alone could fill a volume; you will be hearing of it all in the future—and for a long time—so deeply were we challenged by the needs and opportunities.

I thrilled to the pre-convention meetings, held on Saturday, June 16, when I met Southwide officers, the other 21 vice-presidents, the many state leaders. Especially interesting was the joint luncheon honoring the Training School President, Dr. Carrie U. Littlejohn, who retired this month after 30 years of faithful, effective service. It was a happy, festive occasion—the first luncheon I ever attended where all the guests, around a hundred in number, wore an orchid—brought in especially for the occasion from Hawaii.

But, I must tell you about the convention. Physically, it could not have been excelled, for we were surrounded by the beauty of California flowers and greenery. The platform in the convention hall was bedecked with rich palms and ferns, the speakers' table had a profusion of flowers each day, the speakers—and many of the others—wore colorful corsages. In fact only California could have provided such a setting.

It did not matter at all that we had little time to view the flower stalls along the streets or to drive through the parks where the flowers were a mass of beauty and color, our eyes feasted on California beauty while we listened to business reports and inspirational messages.

Above the flowers, we were attracted to another beautiful sight. Centering the white curtains across the back of the speakers' platform was our W. M. U. emblem, with "Woman's Missionary Union" above and the convention theme, "Righteousness—Peace" below—all in large purple letters. It was easy to worship and plan and wonder as we sat there in that spacious hall so lovingly and so efficiently prepared for us. We began by loving our California women for it all—even before their president, Mrs. Fred McCaulley, welcomed us to a land of opportunity, where "mission opportunity is knocking at your door." Mentioning that 46 nationalities live in California, she introduced four W. M. U. members, a Chinese, a Japanese, a Filipino and a Spanish, each dressed in native costume, who welcomed us in the name of the Baptist women of her race. Yes—we liked California and Californians!

Then, there were those who took part on the programs! How proud we were of our officers and their reports: Mrs. Martin, our president; Alma Hunt, our executive secretary; Margaret Bruce, our Young People's secretary; Juliette Mather, our editorial secretary! How we thrilled to the challenge of our three directors: Mrs. Creasman, Stewardship, Edith Stokely, Community Missions and Mrs. William McMurray, our new Mission Study director! How mingled was our sorrow at parting with Dr. Littlejohn with our pride in greeting the new Training School President, Emily Lansdell! How we rejoiced in the consciousness of being there—especially of being affiliated with Woman's Missionary Union.

Visiting speakers who brought fine, informing, inspiring messages included Mrs. Edgar Bates, dean of women, McMaster University, Ontario; Dr. Walter Pope Binns, president, William Jewell College, Missouri; Dr. Alfred Carpenter, Director of Chaplains Commission, S. B. C.; Mrs. F. Townley Lord, London; Dr. T. H. Chang, Chinese Consul General, San Francisco; Dr. F. Townley Lord, President of the Baptist World Alliance.

Best of all there were our own missionaries who took part on the program: Mrs. B. I. Carpenter from Alaska; Miss Minnie Landrum from Brazil; Mrs. Finley Jackson from Lebanon; Miss Emily Lansdell from China; Mrs. M'bola Ayorinde from Africa; Miss Alma Hunt, recently returned from a visit to South America, spoke most interestingly upon the subject, "I Saw Needs There." Truly our missionary horizon was broadened by all there. But I thrilled more to the report of our home missionary working in the Bay Area, Miss Darlene Hall, who told of her work in International House, Berkeley, where Southern Baptists minister to students from other lands enrolled at the University of California. She introduced four students who gave great testimonies; A young Chinese man; an American girl, born in Cyprus; a Nigerian youth; a Chinese woman doctor serving her internship in Berkeley, and a Chinese boy attending business school in Oakland. Never shall I forget that scholarly Nigerian student's testimony: "I have found Christianity intellectually acceptable, morally adequate, spiritually satisfying." My eyes were truly opened anew to the challenge of home missions as a means to increasing the outreach of foreign missions.

Yes, I wish each of you might have been with us—for truly it was a great convention! Eagerly we await 1952 and its Miami Convention! May more Mississippi women join us there!

Mrs. Charles H. Dean, Jr., of Jackson, Training School Trustee for Mississippi Woman's Missionary Union died last Sunday night.

Nan Dean became a Trustee in 1946, thus becoming a member of the Executive Board of Mississippi W. M. U. None among us has given more generously and unstintedly of time and energy than did she. She was a young woman of unusual charm and ability; always alert to need and opportunity; enthusiastic and zealous; consistent and dynamic in her Christian witness. She was blessed as are few people with many and varied talents. She has served as chairman of many important committees: State Mission Week of Prayer, Budget, W. M. U. Special Day Program and others.

Her keen insight and analytical mind challenged others. Her enthusiasm linked with a compassion for success stimulated all to greater effort. Her consecration and dedication of life to a cause that is enduring pointed others to the "better way." Hers was, indeed a rich example of Christian living.

She was an honor graduate of Louisiana Institute of Technology, Ruston, La. and a post-graduate student of Louisiana State University. She was a member of the First church where she served as teacher of the Love class in the Young People's Department. She served as Baptist Student Union field worker for the Louisiana Baptist Convention, as Mississippi trustee of the Women's Missionary Union Training School, Louisville, Ky., and as Baptist Student Union secretary at East Carolina Teacher's College. She was a member of the executive board of the Mississippi Women's Missionary Union, the board of trustees of Jackson City Library, the Y. W. C. A. board, and the Junior Review Club.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three children, Rebecca, age nine; Richard, age six, and David, age three. She is also survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Olan Morgan; and one brother, William R. Morgan, all of Jackson.

Services were held Tuesday from First Baptist Church, with Dr. W. Douglas Hudgins and Dr. W. A. Hewitt officiating.

Missionary Retires
At Ninety-Six

A 96-year-old missionary took her first airplane trip and her belated retirement this month. She is Miss Sarah Alice Hale of Fort Smith, Arkansas, who served the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention in Mexico from 1891 to 1900. Since then she has worked independently, rendering an outstanding service through the translation of well-known theological books.

Miss Hale received a double portion of her father's inheritance. She has generously given it to those in need and for mission work. At one time she paid the salary of a missionary to the Indians, made several large gifts of money to the Mexican Baptist Convention, and gave a considerable sum to the Foreign Mission Board.

Several years ago she set up the Sarah Hale Book Fund and the Sarah Hale Building Fund, each carrying a sum of several thousand dollars, one to publish books and the other to aid in building mission chapels.

"As our hearts are stirred over the appointment of so many fine young men and women to the mission fields, let us not forget the older ones who laid broad the foundations upon which they will build," says Dr. Everett Gill, Jr., the Board's secretary for Latin America.

SOUTHERN BAPTISTS PLAN HOME MISSIONS CRUSADE

SAN FRANCISCO—Support for a five-year home missions crusade to be operated throughout Southern Baptist Convention territory was urged here at the denomination's 94th annual meeting.

Dr. J. B. Lawrence, executive secretary of the Convention's Home Mission Board, said the crusade will have as its aim "more converts, more churches, more mission stations, more effective witnessing."

He listed the following specific goals:

1. To double the number of Good-Will Centers, serving underprivileged people in large cities.

2. To add 500,000 non-resident Baptists to church membership in the communities where they live.

3. To double the number of churches in the outposts of the Home Mission Board's mission fields.

4. To have all 27,788 churches in the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention at work evangelizing.

5. To establish 181 missions in the language-group field. This includes Spanish, Chinese, French, Italian, Russian, and other foreign language home mission fields in the United States.

6. To secure 200,000 new subscriptions to the Board's home mission journal, Southern Baptist Home Missions.

7. To publish and distribute annually 200,000 mission books.

8. To secure a total attendance of five million persons in one-week schools of missions.

Catholic Church Reports Gain of 868,737 Members

NEW YORK—(RNS)—Roman Catholics in the United States, including Alaska and Hawaii, now number 28,634,878, or more than the total of 27,766,141 reported in 1950, according to the newly published Official Catholic Directory.

For the fifth successive year, the Directory said, the number of converts to Catholicism passed the 100,000 mark. Adult baptisms in 1950 numbered 121,950, bringing the total of converts in the past decade to 1,006,247. There were 973,544 infant baptisms in 1950, an increase of 30,101 over the previous year.

According to the Directory, there are 11,667 separate Catholic educational institutions, or 270 more than last year.

They include 392 diocesan and religious order seminaries or novitiates; 236 colleges and universities; 1,628 diocesan and parish high schools; 801 private high schools; 8,202 elementary parish schools and 508 private elementary schools. There are also 153 protective institutions, with 15,520 children under instruction.

Twenty new institutions brought the total of Catholic general hospitals to 759, with a bed capacity of 99,573, and the number of special hospitals to 112, with accommodations for 8,765 patients. During 1950, a total of 4,843,094 patients were treated in Catholic hospitals.

THE MISSIONARY HOME HAS BEEN the greatest influence for good and the best example of Christian living in any community. It has been the place where the hungry have gone for food, where the needy have had their wants supplied, where hospitality has been extended to all, regardless of color, creed, or class. —Neale C. Young, missionary to Africa.

NEWPORT JOINS STAFF NEW ORLEANS SEMINARY

DR. JOHN NEWPORT

Dr. John Newport of Springfield, Missouri, has accepted the position of associate professor in the Department of New Testament at the New Orleans Seminary, announces President Roland Q. Leavell.

Dr. Newport received his Th. M. and Th. D. from the Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville, and has completed his residence work on the Ph. D. from the University of Edinburgh, Scotland.

He was pastor in Kentucky, in Clinton, Mississippi, and of Immanuel Church, Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Dr. Newport left Tulsa to go to Baylor University where he has taught until accepting the call to New Orleans. Mrs. Newport is a native of Nashville, Tennessee. They have two children, Martha Ellen and Frank Marvin.

Don't Forget The Baptist Record

It is the one item which underwrites success in all phases of kingdom work. INFORMED BAPTISTS ARE BETTER BAPTISTS. Informed Baptists do more than uninformed Baptists. The Baptist Record informs.

....More than 900 churches which have The Baptist Record as a part of their program testify that the use of this informational, inspirational, indoctrinational medium really pays.

....Homes receiving the influence of the Baptist Record contribute more in every way to the whole church program.

....In short, the cost of 8 1/3 cents per month for sending The Baptist Record to each resident family is a wise and profitable investment. More than 900 Mississippi churches can't be wrong.

BAPTIST TRAINING UNION --Auber J. Wilds, State Secretary — Box 530, Jackson 105, Mississippi Associates: Joe Abrams, Louise Hill, Alene JohnsonDISTRICT A SUCCESSFUL CONVENTION TOUR
By JOE ABRAMS

Our 15 annual District Conventions are now history but they will not be forgotten soon. Looking at them from practically every angle they were highly successful. The attendance was good with an estimated 3,500 to 4,000 total attendance. The spirit was superb throughout, which we feel is always one of the more important features of the conventions.

The participation in the various events was widespread. Every event was held in every convention with the one exception of one convention in which no sword drill was conducted. The events this year included Bible stories by the children, the Junior Memory Work, the Intermediate Sword Drill, the Young People's Speaking Tournament, and the Adult Human Interest Missionary Story Telling.

In addition to the above regular Training Union events the participation in the music events was above the average for the past few years. They included the Junior and Intermediate Hymn Playing, the Large Ensembles, the Small Ensembles and the Mass Chorus each night. All of those who participated in the music events were graded and will be eligible to participate in the State Music Festival to be held in the First Baptist Church of Jackson on Nov. 23.

All the winners in the various Training Union events will be eligible to participate in the State Training Union Convention which will be conducted in Meridian on Dec. 28.

Each day's program was closed with the showing of an appropriate film, provided by the Baptist Book Store. The Book Store also provided an exhibit for each day's meeting.

Those making the tour of conventions included this writer; Mr. W. C. Morgan, our State Music Secretary; Mrs. Morgan, and Miss Betty Freeman, representing the Book Store.

All of us sincerely missed our beloved State Secretary, Mr. Wilds, and Miss Louise Hill, who were absent on account of attending the Southern Baptist Convention. They will return soon and will be present for our Training Union Assembly at Camp Garaywa July 2-6 and 9-13.

ROY S. ISBELL

Mr. Roy S. Isbell, BSU Secretary for Delta State, is one of the preachers who has volunteered for Youth Revival work in Mississippi this summer. Mr. Isbell is available for meetings during the periods of July 8-20 and Aug. 5-17. Eleven other preachers and 15 other workers, including song leaders, pianists and personal workers are available for this great work. Write us the date of your Youth Revival and the number of workers you would like to have. We merely suggest to the pastors and churches the names of highly recommended young people and they (the pastors) arrange the details.

QUICK QUOTES

It is well known that those movements which in our time are challenging the Christian way of life are concentrating on winning young people. The leaders of these movements are wise in their generation, and they know that their effectiveness depends in a very large degree on the measure in which they can capture young and eager youth. We in the Christian Church must be no whit behind in this policy. We who are committed to the Christian way of life, and who know from our experience that the only way to happiness for all mankind is that Christ should reign in every heart, must see to it that the claims of Christ are constantly presented to young people and by young people. —F. Townley Lord.

The quotations that you select are the best. The news is fresh. The thoughts are worth using in my church bulletins. —Dr. H. R. Herrington, Pastor of Sumner Church writing of Mississippi Miscellany. (If you want the Miscellany, free, write us. —C. W. H.).

This has been a most enjoyable trip (sent from Arizona). . . . What a royal welcome! . . . I will be working here for two weeks and then I will go back to Honolulu. CALLING ALL MEN

BROTHERHOOD NIGHT
AT GARAYWA

The Brotherhood will take over on Thursday night, July 26, during the Pastors and Laymen's Assembly at Garaywa, July 23-27. Men are going to cover those hills up. In addition to addresses by George Schroeder and S. R. Woodson there is to be an added attraction. We are to have a Brotherhood quartet singspiration—whatever that is. Some twenty-four Brotherhood quartets have been invited to participate on this program. Brethren this is going to be the most beautiful music this side of heaven.

GARAYWA SPACE LIMITED

The response to the Pastors and Laymen's Assembly, July 23-27, has been beyond our expectation. Space is limited and if you want in on this marvelous week of Christian fellowship you had better get a move on you. Call or write immediately for your reservation.

Sunday School Lesson

Prepared by Dr. L. Bracey Campbell.
For July 8.
LIVING TOGETHER IN THE FAMILY.
Bible Texts: Luke 2:51, 52; 10:38-42;
Philippians 5:22, 26; 6: 1-4; II Timothy 14; 3:14-15.

I. THE UNIVERSAL QUEST
The one thing for which all people are looking, searching, striving, more than for anything else, is happiness. A man may be searching for hidden treasures, but the treasures are intended to bring happiness.

THE FARMERS
The farmers for the two years last have been desiring dry weather and the same men are now wanting more rain, more moisture in the earth.
And their mediate desire was that they might reap greater crops, but that purpose was secondary to this: they wanted happiness.

But all this looking and striving is wrongly directed. Happiness is found in the heart that harbors Christ. And the Spirit may find harbor and residence within the heart of a man who has little of this world's goods.

Such was our Brother Paul, in whose heart there was such room for the Spirit of Christ and such reality in His dwelling there, that Paul could say that his happiness did not depend upon his dwelling here or there, in jail or out of it, but did not depend upon anything without him at all, but altogether upon that which is within.

But surroundings do work their effect on the inner state of man. There are some places that do minister more efficiently and abundantly to the need for happiness than others do. Now which are the places open to man enable him the most effectively to prosecute his quest for happiness? To this question find but one answer, the Home. Of course it must be a home and not a house merely.

Out of a fine house I came once with a visiting preacher friend who, looking at the house, remarked, "That is a fine home," to which I made immediate reply, "That is not a home at all, but a hell."

Home should be a place of refuge from the storms of life, a haven of rest for the tired, tempest-tossed heart, a little world of love and confidence shut in, a small world of discord and turmoil shut out, a flowering, palm-studded, fountain-centered oasis set in the midst of blank valleys of desert round about. Home should be a fortress of faith the walls of which no foe can breach, a ship of love so strong as to be able to laugh at all storms and to wrestle successfully with the savage and wild whirlwind. In such shall we find God's perfect peace, be found.

II. ORIGIN OF THE HOME
The heart of God. There it had its origin. There it must drop the sheet-anchor of its hope. There or nowhere else must maintain its existence secure from the overwhelming tempests from without or the more subtle destructive forces within.

In order to make the whole family secure, the Holy Architect and Builder designed that the founding pair be one in flesh and soul, in heart and mind, in desire and plan and purpose, in mutual effort and understanding.

Why all this loftiness in design and solidity in purpose? The answer is found in the purpose God had in the establishment of the family. For this purpose
He was the securing of the highest well-being of the men and women that He made. They were made for each other, that with each other they might work out the divine purposes of God.
Happy workers are always the best and most effective workers, and this the God knew. So He established the

Riley Resigns At Mt. Olive

REV. M. S. RILEY

Rev. M. S. Riley has resigned the pastorate of the Mt. Olive Church in Amite County in order to accept a pastorate in West Orange, Texas.

During the past nine months at Mt. Olive, there have been 11 additions. Former pastores include Carrollton and North Carrollton where he served as County moderator for four years.

Mr. Riley was educated at Southwest Junior College, Mississippi College and the New Orleans Seminary. His father was a minister and his wife is the daughter of a minister, Rev. W. L. Jones of Indianola. Mr. and Mrs. Riley have two daughters.

family that the family might make a home, a refuge to share fellowship and experiences that would produce the highest happiness, a place of love, a place for the exercises of perfect love.
III. VALUES OF THE CHRISTIAN LIFE
(This division of this article is borrowed from Ray Rozell.)

1. FAMILY LIFE IS NORMAL. This means that Christian family life is life as God at the first designed and intended it, and that all other forms of family life than that which is founded on the ideal of one wife and one husband (at the time) is not the normal family life.

2. THE CHRISTIAN FAMILY LIFE
CONDUCTIVE TO HAPPINESS. In it the individual is recognized as of importance. Of course this idea runs counter to the Communistic idea of the place and function of the individual in society.
In communism, the individual is of no importance except as a slave of the state, for whose welfare the individual exists. Whereas the Christian belief is that the state exists for the benefit of the individual.

3. CHRISTIAN FAMILY LIFE CONTRIBUTES TO THE FULL DEVELOPMENT OF THE INDIVIDUAL. The Christian home is the greatest educational institution in the world. The babies who come into the Christian home are loved and cared for and nurtured in the manner that the psychologists say is best for them in after life.

4. CHRISTIAN FAMILY LIFE EXERTS BEST INFLUENCE ON SOCIETY. Wherever you see an example of the degradation of society, it is invariably true that the family life of that society has degenerated from the best to some low parody on the best. The Christianity of any community or state rests upon the basis of the Christian Family. You just can not build and maintain a good, substantial, enduring society without good homes. If the homes go rotten, the community, the church, the state all go along the same path. Keep the home pure and it saves all else. Who saves his home saves all things, and all things will bless him.

Church, was secretary and also presented the Bible, and Rev. R. L. Jordan brought the ordination message.

Here's to LONGER LIFE
... may yours be
healthy and happy!

Longer life is yours today—thanks to modern science. And life expectancy is increasing by leaps and bounds. But longer life means little unless you have good health to enjoy it.

As people grow older, proper nutrition becomes increasingly important. Thus a supplementary food such as Ovaltine is proving of very great value, because it supplies generous amounts of the needed food elements that are so essential in the diets of older people.

Navy Needs Twenty Baptist Chaplains

The United States Navy needs 200 additional chaplains to provide adequate spiritual leadership for those fighting in the Navy to preserve the God-given rights of our nation.

Southern Baptist preachers have never before had such a challenge to fulfill their missionary obligation to the chaplaincy. Thousands of our choice youth offer the chaplain an unlimited opportunity for a spiritual ministry.

The SOUTHERN BAPTIST quota yet to be supplied is 20 additional chaplains for the Navy. This is the only branch of service in which our quota is not filled.

For Navy Reserve, appointment must be made previous to the applicant's 34th birthday, and for Regular Navy, appointment must be previous to the applicant's 35th birthday. Both college and seminary degrees are required.

Drinkers & Abstainers Contrasted

Years ago a member of the British Parliament told his experience. The London "Daily Express" published the recollections of the Rt. Hon. David Kirkland, M.P. It concerned boys who grew up together at Parkhead, Glasgow. All set out to "have a good time," some thought it was to be found in drinking and gambling, others refrained, joining a Temperance Youth Club. This is what happened to—

The (So-Called) "JOLLY TWELVE"

(All Drinkers)

- House agent, poisoned himself at 30.
- Found dead at 30.
- Committed suicide at 31.
- Disappeared at 25.
- Died in mental home at 30.
- Drowned himself in Clyde at 26.
- Poisoned himself at 32.
- Did wrong and fled country.
- Jumped into Clyde—drowned, 35.
- Committed suicide, 36.
- Committed suicide, 35.

"THESE BOYS WERE ALL FRIENDS OF MINE"

Of the drinkers none lived beyond 36; of those who joined the Temperance Club, all lived to a good age, 63 being the earliest age of death. Every one of the latter prospered.

Barden Introduces Federal Aid To Education Bill

Would Restrict Allocations To Public School Uses

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(RNS)—A bill to authorize $314,500,000 a year in federal aid to education, restricting that aid to public schools, was introduced in the House by Rep. Graham A. Barden (D-N. C.), chairman of the House education and labor committee.

Rep. Barden's bill, HR 4468, limits federal aid to salaries of teachers, salaries of supervisory or maintenance personnel, purchase of laboratory equipment, and maintenance and repair of public school buildings.

"I do not think there is any issue regarding the use of federal funds for private schools," Mr. Barden said. "The Constitution precludes it and simply because it does, we ought not to deny public schools the aid they require."

The provisions of HR 4468 define a public school as one which provides education at public expense and under public direction and control.

Sen. James E. Murray (D-Mont.), chairman of the Senate committee on labor and public welfare, has introduced two bills for federal aid to schools. His legislation provides that if public funds are expended in a state for transportation of pupils, grants also must be made to parochial schools for that purpose. Mr. Fogarty's bill also contains this provision.

HELENA, MONT.—(RNS)—A BILL which would have permitted outdoor advertising of beer in Montana remained in a Senate committee following passage by the House when the legislature adjourned after an overtime session. The Montana Council of Churches led opposition to the bill. Last summer, the state supreme court ruled that a law which prohibited outdoor advertising of liquor was applicable to beer as well.

ALL-OCCASION PARTY-PAC (50c)—compiled by Ken Anderson and Mary Carlson, is an evening's supply of games for a party which does not commemorate any special event. Suited to young people in their late teens or adults, the games give spiritual emphasis and wholesomeness to a party. Slips for each game are provided for ten guests. Order from the Zondervan Publishing House, Grand Rapids, Michigan, or from the Baptist Book Store.

THE ABSTAINERS

- Became manager, Beardmores Mills.
- Manager, great engineering works.
- Succeeded to father's business.
- Controls successful business.
- Engineer, retired well off.
- Butcher's errand boy, now owns business.
- Foreman, large building firm.
- High position in leather factory.
- Master builder, Glasgow.
- Manager, important Glasgow business.
- Myself.

"THESE BOYS WERE ALL FRIENDS OF MINE"

Of the drinkers none lived beyond 36; of those who joined the Temperance Club, all lived to a good age, 63 being the earliest age of death. Every one of the latter prospered.

There were 159 enrolled at the Vacation Bible School at Immanuel Church, Natchez. Mrs. Hoy Herring was principal. The following were department superintendents: Kitty Morris, Beginner; Mrs. O. C. Morris, Primary; Mrs. O. T. Palmer, Junior; Mrs. Brown Bamburgh, Junior; and Mrs. Allen C. Johnson, Intermediate. The mission offering was $29.60. Rev. Allen Johnson is pastor.

AMONG RECENT VISITORS IN THE Baptist Building were: Rev. James M. Bond, Louisville; Rev. Paul McDonald, Puckett; Rev. Leon V. Young, Clinton; Rev. C. O. Lindsey, Meridian; Rev. B. E. Phillips, Jackson; Agnes Maples, Mobile, Alabama; Rev. Cecil R. Maples, Vicksburg; R. E. Gardner, Louin; L. J. Burns, State Springs; Rufus Hardin, Calhoun City; Gay Jordan, Mobile, Alabama; Hilda Jordan, Mobile, Alabama; Diane Wilkinson, Natchez; J. F. Breed, New Orleans, Louisiana; Rev. V. J. Hemby, Pachuta; Mrs. M. Medford, Fort Worth, Texas; Mickey Medford, Fort Worth, Texas; Erin E. Grafton, Laurel; Jo Williams, Ellisville; Frank E. Skilton, Blue Mountain; Rev. Charles Everitt, Merigold; Rev. C. O. Lindsey, Meridian; Rev. Roy Isabell, Cleveland; Milton Leach, Jr., Fort Worth, Texas; David C. Young, Tallahassee, Florida; Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Wells, New Hebron; Daniel B. Brinson, Star; Rev. Landrum P. Leavell, Crosby; John F. Gibson, Poplarville; and Mary Frank Kirkpatrick, Nopaxater.

CHEROKEE, N. C.—A plea that tourists avoid visits to the Indian reservation here on Sundays was issued by the executive committee of the Cherokee Indian Baptist Association.

A statement adopted by the committee and addressed "To our Baptist Brethren and Christian Friends" said:

"We, the executive committee of the Cherokee Indian Baptist Association do earnestly and prayerfully request all Christians to join us in prayer and effort to withstand the throng of tourists and pleasure seekers on the Lord's Day (Sunday) that come to our reservation.

"It has created a problem that we cannot handle without your help.

"Please ask all Baptists and other Christians not to come to the reservation on Sunday for sight-seeing and pleasure.

"Please do not come to the drama, 'Unto These Hills,' on Sunday night, as the influx of so many people help to demoralize our church services.

"We do not believe our brethren are aware of the seriousness of our Sunday problem.

"If there is not a change at an early date, the spiritual life of our people will be greatly retarded.

"Please help us, as we strive to carry on our church work that is dear to the hearts of our Indian people."

(Editor's Note: Rev. Ewell Payne, Mississippian, is a Home Board Missionary to the Cherokees.)

MOVIE DRINKING SCENES DISTORTS LIFE'S IDEALS

By BILLIE JEAN JONES

The modern teen-ager at the movies gets the impression that life is not a matter of eight glasses of pure water or a quart of pasteurized milk for good health and well-being; but rather it's cocktail, beer, or champagne. The teenager unconsciously makes note of the frequency which movie stars pick up a glass of liquor and is impressed with the glamorized effects.

They not only see bar scenes but endless home scenes with table, bottle and glasses—all the equipment for drinking.
